Review: BROADWAY & BEYOND: with Josh Rhett Noble Captivates

By Sarah Dale

If you want to experience a truly exhilarating performance, then BROADWAY & BEYOND: with Josh Rhett Noble is definitely the show for you! Most recently seen at Out Front Theatre's intimate cabaret space, the energy and talent that this veteran of stage and screen brings to the stage is simply mesmerizing. Throughout the show, Noble weaves a personal story with his music, taking the audience on a journey utilizing Broadway classics, pop music hits, and old-time favorites.

Noble is best known for his portrayal of the over-the-top "Gaston" in Disney's Beauty & the Beast in various theaters across the country, as well as multiple guest star roles in television and film. His vast experience on stage and in front of the camera was very apparent given his ease during the performance.

Noble's vocals are nothing short of stunning. His voice is powerful, yet delicate, and he transitions seamlessly from one genre to the next, showcasing his incredible versatility. The emotional ballads are especially heart-wrenching, leaving the audience in awe. One such song, Leonard Cohen's "HALLELUJAH", was particularly touching and was dedicated to his late mother.

At the same time, he manages to infuse humor throughout the show, creating a well-balanced performance for everyone to enjoy. His rendition of the Britney Spears classic "BABY ONE MORE TIME" had everyone rolling with laughter.

What makes Noble even more captivating is his magnetic stage presence. His natural charisma and charm help to create an intimate setting, so it feels like you're sitting in his living room while he serenades you with his melodies.

Overall, BROADWAY & BEYOND: with Josh Rhett Noble is an outstanding production that will leave you singing and tapping your feet long after the show has ended.
